Government officials killed in Kunduz suicide bombing

January 26, 2013

¹A relatively heavy explosion rocked northern Kunduz province of Afghanistan on Saturday evening.

According to reports the incident took place after suicide bomber detonated explosives packed in a motorcycle around 5:00 pm local time.

In the meantime a spokesman for the Afghan police in northern Afghanistan Lal Mohammad Ahmadzai said at least ten Afghan security forces including counter-terrorism chief and head of the traffic department for Kunduz province have been killed.

Mr. Ahmadzai further added at least twenty others, all Afghan security forces have also been wounded following the blast.

He said the incident took place in a busy area of Kunduz city while local residents were busy with shopping and Afghan security forces have reached to the area to inspect the incident.

No group including the Taliban militants has so far claimed responsibility behind the incident.
