13 people killed, 30 others injured in Panjsher suicide attack

May 1, 2014

Several people including Afghan security personnel were killed or injured following a suicide attack rocked northern Panjsher province of Afghanistan on Thursday evening.

According to local government officials, at least 13 people were killed and nearly 30 others were injured following incident.

Provincial security chief Abdul Aziz Ghairat said the suicide bomber detonated a vehicle-borne improvised explosive device close to a security check post.

Ghairat further added that six Afghan security forces including five policemen and an Afghan intelligence operative were killed along with seven civilians following the explosion.

He said at least four militants were inside the vehicle which was detonated while Afghan security forces were checking the cars.

According to Ghairat the incident took place on the border line between Parwan and Panjshir province which is normally busy as the area is the entrance point to Panjshir province.

A number of the people injured in the explosion have been reported to be in critical condition.
