Top Taliban commander Dadullah confirms Mullah Omar was killed

August 5, 2015

The Taliban group's top commander Mansoor Dadullah has warned of further divisions among the Taliban militants while expressing his deep opposition with the appointment of Mullah Akhtar Mohammad Mansoor as successor of Mullah Mohammad Omar.

Dadullah has called on immediate actions to appointment a new supreme leader for the Taliban group who should be acceptable for all.

He announced his support to Mullah Omar's son Mullah Mohammad Yaqoob and called the tensions among the Taliban leaders at all-time high.

He told the BBC correspondent through a telephone conversation that the Taliban group has already been divided in different branches.

Dadullah also confirmed that Mullah Omar did not die naturally but was assassinated, confirming the reports suggesting Mullah Omar was mysteriously killed in April 2013 in a hospital in Karachi city of Pakistan.

Mansoor Dadullah is the brother of the former senior Taliban commander Mullah Dadullah who was actively operating in southern Helmand province before he was killed during an operation in Helmand province in 2007.

The Afghan Intelligence – National Directorate of Security (NDS) said Monday that the Taliban supreme leader Mullah Mohammad was mysteriously killed in a hospital in Karachi city of Pakistan.

A statement was issued by NDS on Monday tonight stating that Mullah Omar was killed in the month of April 2013 in a hospital in Karachi city.
