ISIS fanatics in Afghanistan release new video showing extreme violent acts

December 25, 2015

The loyalists of the Islamic State of Iraq and Syria (ISIS) terrorist group in Afghanistan have released a new propaganda video which purportedly shows the extreme violent acts of the terror group in Afghanistan.

The authenticity of the video has not been verified but it was released by the affiliates of the terror on Friday morning having a title of “Khurasan, The Graveyard of Apostates”.

Although the loyalists of the terror group have released numerous videos in the past which purportedly shows the execution of prisoners.

However, the latest video purportedly shows the operational capability of the terror group which was in an emergent stage until a few weeks earlier.

The video shows suicide attack on a check post apparently belonging to the Afghan security forces using a Vehicle-borne Improvised Explosive Device (VBIED) and roadside bombings targeting the government vehicles as well the non-government organizations.

In other parts of the video, the fanatics of the terror group are shown beheading a man and execution of two other men by firing from a close range.

The video carrying subtitles in Pashto language claims that the violent acts took place in central Logar, eastern Nangarhar and southeastern Paktika provinces.

An ambush on a vehicle convoy of the Pakistani security forces and fierce gunfight has also been included in the new video.

This comes as the US Secretary of Defense Ashton Carter warned regarding the emergent threat of the terror group during a surprise visit to Afghanistan on Friday, however he said the threat posed by the terror group is being tracked very closely as they have started creating 'little nests' in Afghanistan.

Meanwhile, the commander of the US and NATO forces in Afghanistan Gen. John Campbell earlier said the loyalists of the terror group are attempting to establish a regional base in Jalalabad, the capital city of eastern Nangarhar province.

In an interview with The Associated Press, the commander of the US and NATO forces in Afghanistan, Gen. John Campbell, said Tuesday that foreign militants from Syria and Iraq had joined the loyalists of the terror group in eastern Nangarhar province and are trying to consolidate links with the leadership of the terror group based in Syria and Iraq.
