Solidarity to the political prisoners in struggle at Maghaberry prison

5/21/2010

We express our solidarity to the political prisoners in struggle at Maghaberry prison, in Lisburn, Northern Ireland. The prisoners are in struggle for three weeks now, since their detention conditions have been severely aggravated.

Prisoners are locked in their cells 23 hours a day, they are stripped searched every time they leave their cells, access to the phone is being restricted, they have to eat their meals in their cells. After one of the prisoners had been moved to the Punishment Block, and due to the brutality of the warders, the other prisoners wrecked their cells as a protest. As a result, they no longer have access to running water and sanitation facilities. One day, after they had left their cells for the single permitted hour, a liquid was thrown over their beds, so they had to sleep on the floor. The prisoner in punishment has been refused access to all visits, to the phone, and to the showers. These are just some examples of the daily brutality that is practiced at Maghaberry.

The prisoners ask the end to degrading stripped searching and ask for the right to free association.

We call everyone to send letters and faxes on behalf of political prisoners at Maghaberry prison, at the following address.
