The situation in Italy and some issued regarding the International Communist Movement

9/28/2010

On 1st September the (new)Italian Communist Party spread the statement we reproduce below, translated in English. It starts from analyzing the concrete situation in Italy, abstracts some universal teachings from it and from the history of the International Communist Movement, and then applies them as concrete ways to make the revolution in our country. This statement starts from the practice, elaborates the theory and return to the practice, from the particular to the general and again to the particular. It is an example of how to use dialectical materialism as a method to understand and transform the reality. The universal teachings here exposed are related to some of the most important issues the ICM has to deal with if it wants to develop, to overcome the condition of weakness it is still suffering, particularly in the imperialist countries. They are:

- the reason why in the first socialist countries and in the first ICM the revisionists were able to seize power,
- the reason why the first ICM was not able to make the revolution in any imperialist country,

- the protracted revolutionary people's war (PRPW) as strategy for seizing power also in the imperialist countries, and therefore as universal strategy for making the revolution, and the characteristics the PRPW has in an imperialist country like Italy,
- Marxism Leninism Maoism as the new conception the new ICM needs as foundation for its renaissance.

Any comment will be precious for developing the common debate about these matters, as this debate is the first task the ICM has to carry out, together with the other tasks, the common activities and the mutual knowledge, and the mutual solidarity.

The International Department of the CARC Party is responsible for the translation, for any possible mistakes or imprecision and it is ready to accept any proposal of a best translation.
