Five foreign soldiers killed in Afghanistan

9/29/2011

Kabul - Five soldiers with the NATO-led International Security Assistance Force (ISAF) were killed Wednesday in separate incidents in Afghanistan, the military coalition said.

Three ISAF service members died following an improvised explosive device attack in eastern Afghanistan on Wednesday, ISAF said in a statement.

In a separate incident, one soldier died as a result of a non-battle related injury in southern Afghanistan.

ISAF did not release details about the deceased or exactly where the incidents took place.

Earlier in the day, ISAF said one soldier had died following an insurgent attack in Wardak province, bordering Kabul.

Even though military officials have projected a fragile gain, violence has erupted recently in much of Afghanistan, including the capital.

The United Nations said Wednesday Afghanistan was witnessing 'considerable political volatility and disconcerting levels of insecurity' with average monthly 'security incidents' up by 39 per cent through August, compared to the same period in 2010.

Last month was the deadliest for US and NATO allies in Afghanistan, according to an independent tally website, iCasualties.org.

At least 81 international soldiers died in Afghanistan, the highest this year, of which 70 were Americans, the highest casualties in a month for the US forces since the war started in 2001.
